

Terms and conditions for discount codes

1. Discount codes are only valid for bookings made within the promotion period and apply to flights within the specified travel period. It is not possible to claim the discount retrospectively on a flight that has already been booked. Discount codes may be restricted to specific destinations as well as to the promotion period and travel period. Details regarding the promotion period and travel period and all other terms and conditions can be viewed on the landing page for the promotion or in the flyer published for the special offer. In addition, the promotion period and travel period can be verified at airberlin.com/coupon. The sale, auction, duplication or modification of the discount code is prohibited. Discount codes cannot be redeemed for codeshare flights or flights operated by airline partners.
2. Discount codes can be used for flight bookings made via airberlin.com/coupon. At least one passenger must be a full fare paying adult. On joint bookings consisting of several people, one discount code must be entered per flight guest, i.e. the number of discount codes entered must match the number of passengers on the booking. If a child discount is claimed this is calculated on the basis of the discounted net adult fare after deducting the value of the discount code.
3. Only one discount code may be used per person. Each airberlin discount code may be redeemed once only. The value of the discount code is deducted from the net fare only (excluding taxes, charges and fuel surcharge). For return flights half of the discount value will be considered for each flight. If the value of the discount code is greater than the net fare, the fare is reduced to €0 and the remaining balance on the discount code is forfeited.
4. Combining a discount code with other special deals that are currently on offer (e. g. group or special promotional offers, etc.) or the use of a discount code for bookings made through tour operators, bookings with "Rail & Fly" option, 72-hour Best Price Guarantees and in the fare categories Economy Light and Economy Flex is not permitted.
5. An airberlin discount code does not represent a separate credit balance. It cannot be redeemed for cash.
6. If the flight is rebooked or cancelled or the name of the passenger is changed, the discount code is forfeited and does not apply to the new booking. It is only possible to rebook or cancel a flight or change the name of the passenger via airberlin.com or through the airberlin Service Center upon payment of the rebooking fee applicable at the time of making the change. In addition to these terms and conditions, the General Terms and Conditions of Carriage (GTCC) of Air Berlin PLC & Co. Luftverkehrs KG also apply.
7. airberlin accepts no liability for the loss or theft of the discount code. To protect against misuse we recommend that discount codes should not be disclosed to third parties, since anyone can book using the discount code. If a discount code is disclosed to a third party there is the danger that the original owner may also make use of it.
